I took this picture (negative) of a U.F.O. It didn't turn out when I got the ~~film~~ film developed. Perhaps you have some way of finding out if it "looked" or not.

If it didn't turn out, I am going to keep on taking pictures of U.F.O.'s that I get a good one. I just want to prove that I was telling the truth when I said I saw one, off March 9th, 1967. I've seen several since but not close up like on March 9th.

The U.F.O. in the picture was taken around 1 AM to 2 AM in the morning over Fortbridge, Ohio (My mother-in-law's house). It appeared to be several miles high. It looked like a real bright star. It "sat" inside the big dipper for at least an hour then moved to the top of the sky where I took the picture. It "flashed" it's light off and on several times, then just faded away as though going straight up.

We have seen several of these "stars" around Torch, Coalville, & Fortbridge since I first witnessed the U.F.O. in 1967. They still appear to be bright stars but they definitely aren't because they move around and up, then move again, turning their lights off and on.

I also saw a big "ball of fire" about a month ago come down over the railroad tracks in Torch behind our trailer. It was around 11:30 PM. Our dogs were carrying on. I looked out the window just in time to see it come down and land on the bank behind the tracks. A train was coming. I didn't see it again till the train was past. Then it rose straight

I do see odd objects I do not understand particularly with searchlights so don't tell me that's what we've seen. I know what they look like!

up into the air and took off.

Also there has been a large red light over Lattige, Ohio several nights during the past month. I last saw it around New Years.

My husband saw it, his brother [REDACTED] who is 15, [REDACTED] who owns a store in Lattige, Mr. [REDACTED] who has a gas station on the main highway between Woolville and Guyville. Someone told [REDACTED] it was a town in Pennsylvania but it's not. Because some nights it's in a different place. We tried to follow it but when we'd get close to it, it would disappear. The first night we saw it, it was nearly as big as the moon and it would change from orange to bright red. Then it went completely out.

There are many people like us who would like to find out where these U.F.O.'s are from. What they are and who is in them.
Personally, I think they are people from outer-space. But if they aren't and if the Government claims that it manufactures these objects then certainly it is the citizens privilege to know.

However, if they are inhabitants of another world we could certainly make room for them to visit us. They could for doubt teach us a god many things. I think the people should know what you know. All of my friends have seen them. Everyone I know believes in them except old people over 30. And even the old people I know have seen U.F.O.'s but they think the Government makes them. Nobody I know is scared of them except me. But if figure if it's something worth being afraid of then it must be something to be afraid of.
